SAINTLY ADVICE "DETACHMENT"

"Man is made to praise, reverences and serve God our lord, and by this means to save his soul. The other things on the face of the earth are created for man to help him in attaining the end for which he was created. Hence man is made to make use of them insofar as they help him in the attainment of this end, and he must rid himself of them insofar as they prove a hindrance to him. All the small preoccupation of men with the things of this life is but the games of children on the sands....as soon as their work is complete, the sand falls down and nothing is left of their building an labour"
(St John Bosco)

A LITTLE THEOLOGY - LYING.

The church defines a lie in the following manner, "A lie consists in speaking falsehood with the real intention of deceiving". We Are not bound to tell the whole truth and indeed such a duty would be impractical, on the contrary we may be bound to keep a secret. In response to an unwarranted enquiry we say something that is true but either give a misleading impression or effectively we can change the subject. The story is told about the great St Athanasius, on one of his many occasions he was forced to flee persecution, rowing along a river to escape rowing in the opposite direction were a group of men searching for him. "Where is the heretic Athanasius" they called out, it would have been a lie to say "I don't know" or to have given a false location. He replied "He's not far away" and kept rowing away to freedom.

DOGMAS OF THE CHURCH.

What is a Dogma? it is an article of faith, defined and declared by the church as revealed by Jesus and his church, all catholics are bound to believe them as a matter of faith. The following are the central dogmas of the church, A. The divinity of Christ 2. The real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist 3. The immaculate conception 4. The assumption of Mary 5. Papal infallibility, these are essential to be a catholic .
